The Customer Service organization in Rockford held its annual picnic on August 27. As in past years, the picnic committee held a fundraiser benefiting a local charity. The proceeds of this year's raffle were given to REMEDIES, an agency providing domestic violence services to Rockford-area residents.

According to committee chairperson, Susan Meek, the $1,250 donation is 25 percent higher than the previous year.

"REMEDIES has expressed their appreciation to Hamilton Sundstrand and our committee is especially grateful for the Customer Service organization's support of our community, particularly in this economy," said Meek.
